Local company iLECSYS become the Chilterns MS Centre's first Corporate Friend

Local company iLECSYS, who will shortly be moving to a purpose-built site in Princes Risborough, were so taken with local charity the Chilterns MS Centre's newest fundraising initiative they signed up immediately and designed all the scheme's marketing materials!

iLECSYS, national suppliers of industrial electrical components and enclosures, have become the charity's first ever Platinum Corporate Friend, pledging £100 per month to support local people affected by multiple sclerosis (MS) in return for business benefits including regular networking events, brand promotion, staff motivation and team building.

Managing Director Grace Tipson explains 'We are delighted to support the Chilterns MS Centre. It's a fantastic local charity making a difference in our shared community.'

Find out more about Corporate Friends by coming to the first free networking meeting at 6pm on Thursday 18 May at the Chilterns MS Centre, Wendover. Enjoy drinks and nibbles whilst meeting 100 people from local companies and businesses, and hearing from iLECSYS and Liam Black. Liam Black, described by The Guardian as a 'new breed of business leader: a social entrepreneur who marries altruism with good business sense', has a 15 year CEO career, latterly with the Jamie Oliver Group, and is co-founder of Wavelength, a world-class leadership company.

Robert Breakwell, the charity's Chief Executive comments 'Since Bucks has more SMEs than any other county in the UK, and Aylesbury Vale is a growth area with a high employment rate, I can't think of a better time to launch Corporate Friends. We look forward to helping local businesses deliver their corporate social responsibility policies, improve their staff retention and hopefully help improve their bottom lines.'

Hannah Asquith, Head of Fundraising & Communications, [seen here with Robert Breakwell, presenting Lewis and Francesca of iLECSYS with their Platinum Corporate Friends plaque] and her friendly and dynamic team will work hard to ensure every partnership has value and meaning for Corporate Friends partners, staff and stakeholders.
